Rowing on the River Derwent

- When heading south boats should stay to the west
- When heading north boats to the east
- Pass stroke side to stroke side (port to port)
- Ensure correct lighting is displayed on shells (strobe bow and all round white stern) and coach boats (side lights all round white)
- Always give way to vessels under pilotage control
- Life jackets are required to be worn if there is no coach boat within 500m of the shell
- Always check weather and boating forecasts
